

NORDIC INTERNATIONAL FILM FESTIVAL

COREY'S FILM

'FEMME'

HAD ITS

NEW YORK PREMIERE

AT

ACE HOTEL NEW YORK

ARTISTS IN RESIDENCE
NOVEMBER 18

#NIFF2018

Corey Camperchioli

A W "A New York actor who was told he was C R 'too gay' to make it in the industry has T I transformed his harshest critique into his O T greatest asset by writing and starring in a R E short film that celebrates what it means to R be 'femme'. Now Camperchioli has learned how to embrace his femininity and is inspiring others from around the world to do the same through his short film, which is now set to be turned into a TV series produced by Emmy Award-winning actress Rachel Brosnahan, star of The Marvelous Miss Maisel."

-

- Daily Mail

Corey Camperchioli is the writer, associate producer, and star of Femme, the wildly successful short film currently being adapted to television with Emmy and Golden Globe winner Rachel Brosnahan attached as Executive Producer. Corey made his film debut opposite Laverne Cox in Migraine, which premiered at Tribeca Film Festival, and is a graduate of New York University's Tisch School of the Arts.

